Medicine in Early Brighton

Low land prices in the Northwest Territory during the 1830s were an incentive to hundreds in the eastern United States who packed their families on a boat in the Erie Canal to begin the first leg of their journey to a better life. These newly arrived settlers in Livingston County had left behind not only all educational, cultural and religious resources, but also family support and access to doctors.

What did a doctor's medical training consist of? Most 'doctors' got their medical education working with another doctor; not unlike a would-be attorney apprenticing with another to practice law. Some read medical books and then decided for themselves they were doctors.

In the Michigan Territory during the early 19th century, there was no 911 service in the event of an emergency. Any doctors were several hours away via Indian trails through forests and around swamps or by way of blazed trees.

Today, it is difficult to conceive the desperation, which settlers experienced, if an accident or illness befell a family member. Cutting trees or squaring logs for a cabin occasionally resulted in broken bones and deep flesh wounds. If gangrene occurred, it was usually a matter of amputating the limb or dying of blood poisoning. Cooking at a fireplace occasionally resulted in a garment catching fire. A tipped-over lamp or candle was the source of severe burns. A tourniquet applied to a snake bite to stop the spread of venom occasionally caused the inadvertent loss of limb.

Not until 1835, when Dr. Thomas Curtis moved to Kensington Village (just east of the county line), was any medical assistance available to the southeast quarter of the county. There, Curtis built a tavern, had an office and, probably, a druggist.

The Brighton area's first doctor was Wilbur Fisher from Ann Arbor, who moved here in 1836. It is said his medicines were certainly given in sufficiently large doses to cure "... if quantity were the consideration."

Dr. Ira P. Bingham (brother of Governor Kinley S. Bingham of Green Oak Township) was in the area in 1835. He located his practice in Brighton in 1841, where he practiced for 40 years, living in the Brighton (Eastern) House for a time. Dr. Bingham is buried in the Old Village Cemetery. In 1914, William J. McInerney arrived to teach in local schools. Within a year, he began "reading" medicine with Dr. Bingham and in the fall of 1855 entered the medical department at University of Michigan, where he received his degree in 1858. Following service as U.S. Army Assistant Surgeon General during the Civil War, he continued studying to keep up with medical developments. He continued his practice in Brighton for 52 years after the war. His gravestone is in Fairview Cemetery.

Compiled by Marianna Bair "Michigan Memorabilia" by William Piess, "1280 History of Livingston County" by Franklin Ellis, "From Settlement to City – Brighton, Michigan" by Carol McMacken and clippings. To be continued: Additions/ corrections requested. 830-229-6402.

***

Online Historical Resources

There are many great resources online that make it easy for the serious historian and casual history buff to do research. One of my favorite is the Seeking Michigan site. This web site contains a large collection of stories, maps, photos, documents, oral histories and more. It is easy to browse and search. I would highly recommend visiting this site to learn about Michigan's great history. – Dave Ball

Seeking Michigan online at: seekingmichigan.org

There is a good chance that when you read this title "Ice harvesting", you may begin to wonder: what does ice harvesting really mean? How or why would you harvest ice? Ice is found conveniently inside our refrigerators. If we need a big bag of ice for a party or picnic, we can get it at our local grocery store. How or why would anyone attempt to harvest ice?

As all school kids know, ice is simply frozen water. If we go back in time to the 1930s and 1940s, the term refrigerator was just coming into the American vocabulary. This modern piece of kitchen equipment started to replace the familiar wooden icebox that was found in most homes. These iceboxes typically used lake ice into the 60s.

Before refrigeration, all ice came from lakes and rivers that were located in the northern climates. The Brighton area with its fifty surrounding lakes became an important source for providing ice to the large commercial ice suppliers located in Detroit and Toledo. Railroads located next to lakes and rivers allowed huge blocks of ice weighing up to 300 pounds to be transported to the major cities.

The CoBACH Center exhibit will feature a media collection of old photos and video footage from the harvesting process in the early 1900s. The practice of ice harvesting relied on rugged men who would cut the ice into large slabs using handsaws and in later years horse-pulled ice sleds with saw mounted on the underside. The exhibit includes a variety of hand saws and horse-drawn saws that were used to score the ice with parallel grooves prior to the ice cutting sleds that cut deep grooves which allow the workers to hand-fraction the ice.

This exhibit is a must see! You will not see this equipment or learn about the difficult job of ice harvesting when you visit Greenfield Village. Ice harvesting was one of the ten largest industries in the United States at one time. Most of this vintage equipment and media is on loan from the extensive collection of the Knobrock Ice Museum of North America located in Port Huron, Michigan.

Jim Vichich

Your Support

Your continued support for our mission in 2011 is both needed and appreciated. We need volunteers and financial donations to continue our many projects, including:

• Historic Resource Survey
• Archive digitization
• CoBACH Center programs
• Lyon School maintenance
• Historical exhibits

Every hour you volunteer and every dollar you donate goes toward these projects. Without the generosity of our members, none of this would be possible. Thank you and we look forward to your support in the coming year.

PRESERVE, ADVANCE AND DISSEMINATE KNOWLEDGE OF THE HISTORY OF THE BRIGHTON AREA

TRAIL TALES

Volume XXX. No. 1 | January 2011

Special points of interest:

ACCESS TO HEALTH CARE IS A HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUE TODAY. IN BRIGHTON'S EARLY DAYS, IT WAS A MATTER OF LIFE AND DEATH.

See Page 6

WE HAVE MANY PEOPLE AND ORGANIZATIONS TO THANK FOR THE DONATIONS, VOLUNTEERISH AND HOW AND RECENTLY MEMBERSHIPS.

See Page 2

"I thought it necessary to study history, even to study it deeply, in order to obtain a clear meaning of our immediate time."

Paul Valery

1871 - 1945

French Poet and Philosopher

Inside this issue:

Recent and Future Happenings

Recognition

BACH Gestr Spies

BACH Happenings

More About BACH

Contact BACH

Historical Preservation
Recent and Future Happenings

Dates to Remember - January 2011
Jan 2, 5, 9, 12, 16, 19, 23, 26, 30: 5pm-8pm
BAHS hosts at CoBACH Center
Jan 6 & 13, 20, 27: 9am-4pm
Archiving/Open House at Lyon School
Jan 26: 6pm
BAHS Board Meeting at CoBACH.

Thanks and Recognition

Thanks to...

The BAHS recognizes the following people for volunteering their time:

- Bert & Marianne Bair, Judith Coeby, Gary Reutter and Jim Vichich for helping in mailing the December Trail Tales.
- Marianne Bair, Joe Collins, Mindy Kinsey, Larry Lawrence, Tammy Sexton, Candy Spiegel, Jim Vichich, Dick Wease and Hank Winemar for serving as CoBACH hosts.
- Marianne Bair, Mindy Kinsey, Tom Reinking, Tammy Sexton and Jim Vichich for conducting the holiday open house at Lyon School. Those attending enjoyed refreshments, made crafts, and visited with Santa and Mrs. Claus.
- Robert Wilkinson for use of 1967 Brighton Centennial photos. These were copied and added to the archive.
- Kathy Partridge for the 1960s Country Cupboard window display photo.
- Esther Javits and Mark & Carol McMicken for their donation in memory of Jack Jarvis.
- Margaret Bowland, Nancy Cardile, William and Margaret Dixon, Bill & Evelyn McConnell, Cleo Moran, Carole Scott and Lyla Spelbring for donations to the BAHS Project Fund.
- Bill & Jacque Armstrong, Lois Clark, Dr. Harry and Carol Davis, Dr. John & Barbara Jacoby, Cleo Moran, Lyla Spelbring and Willis Wolfe for donations to Friends of Lyon School Fund.
- David & Judith Bair, Paul & Kathy Unger for donations in honor of Bert & Marianne Bair.

In Memoriam

The BAHS would like to extend sympathies to the families of:

Jack Jarvis and Sharon Kissak.

Both were Brighton Area Historical Society members. Jack was a Brighton native and Sharon owned the Yum Yum Tree.

BAHS Merchandise

We have many great items for sale that help us generate much needed funds to carry on our mission. This includes home décor items, afghans and pillows, decorative ceramic tiles, etc., postcards, craft items, and the like. Presented below are just a few. To see our full gift shop offering, please contact us at our web site.

- The Old Town Hall graces this framed needlepoint that would look good in any home décor.
- The beautiful afghans feature many local historical sites. Available in red, green and blue.
- There are twelve different ceramic tiles, each with a different historical building.
- This pewter plate contains a sunken relief impression of the Old Town Hall.

BAHS: How to Contact Us or Find Us

If you would like to contact us, please use the following options:

E-Mail:
info@brightonareahistorical.com

Phone:
(810) 250-7776

US Mail:
Brighton Area Historical Society
P. O. Box 483
Brighton, MI 48116-0481

Lyon School
11455 Buno Road, west of Pleasant Valley Road. The 1885 Lyon School is a fully restored one-room schoolhouse and serves as our organization headquarters.

CoBACH Center
202 W. Main Street, in downtown Brighton next to the Millpond. CoBACH is formally known as the City of Brighton, Arts, Culture and History Center. It is located in the historic 1879 two story brick building also known as the Old Town Hall.
Recent and Future Happenings

Dates to Remember - January 2011
Jan 2, 5, 9, 12, 16, 19, 23, 26, 30: 5pm-8pm
BAHS hosts at CoBACH Center
Jan 6, 13, 20, 27: 9am-4pm
Archiving/Open House at Lyon School
Jan 26: 6pm
BAHS Board Meeting at CoBACH.

Thanks and Recognition

Thanks to...
The BAHS recognizes the following people for volunteering their time:
- Bert & Marianne Bair, Judith Coebly, Gary Reutter and Jim Vichich for help in mailing the December Trail Tales.
- Marianne Bair, Joe Collins, Mindy Kinsey, Larry Lawrence, Tammy Sexton, Candy Spiegel, Jim Vichich, Dick Weare and Hank Wingera for serving as CoBACH hosts.
- Marianne Bair, Mindy Kinsey, Tom Reineke, Tammy Sexton and Jim Vichich for conducting the holiday open house at Lyon School. Those attending enjoyed refreshments, made crafts, and visited with Santa and Mrs. Claus.
- Robert Wilkinson for use of 1967 Brighton Centennial photos. These were copied and added to the archive.
- Kathy Partridge for the 1960s Cupboard window display photos.
- Esther Jarvis and Mark & Carol McMacken for their donation in memory of Jack Jarvis.
- Margaret Bowland, Nancy Cardile, William and Margaret Dixon, Bill & Evelyn McConnell, Cleo Moran, Carole Scott and Lyla Spelbring for donations to the BAHS Project Fund.
- Bill & Jacque Armstrong, Lois Clark, Dr. Harry and Carol Davis, Dr. John & Barbara Jacoby, Cleo Moran, Lyla Spelbring and Willis Wolfe for donations to Friends of Lyon School Fund.
- David & Judith Bair, Paul & Kathy Unger for donations in honor of Bert & Marianne Bair.
- Tom Spillane of Swartz Creek for his donation of stereo viewer and slides of the Fisher Property on Rickett Rd.

Memberships
We would like to thank the following members for their annual memberships:
- Life
  - Marianne Bair
  - Douglas & Carol Rearick
- Patron
  - Margaret Bowland
  - Dr. John & Margaret Jacoby (MN)
  - Jere & Kay Michaels
  - Ralph & Elizabeth Romano
- Family
  - Bill & Jacque Armstrong
  - Pat Anderson
  - Bert & Marianne Bair
  - David Ball
  - Russell Bell (OH)*
  - Dow & Joanne Bellmard
  - Dale Borst, Brad Beal (CA)
  - Doug Bigwel (FL)
  - Bonnie Critias*
  - Lois Clark (Midland)
  - Denise Daddino
  - Dr. Harry & Carol Davis
  - Gerald Dilloway*
  - William & Margaret Dixon
  - Evelyn Dothager
  - Nancy Fredenburg
  - Lynnette Hawkins
  - Whitney & June Kinetle
  - Michael Leininger & Kathy Partridge*
  - Jim Lauridsen*
  - Susan M. Lanning
- Don & Edie Leith
- Harold Lenz
- John & Ruth LePatourel
- Steven & Kate Lowry
- Bill & Evelyn McConnell (Dibrn)
- Richard MclEyea*
- Cleo Moran (Novi)
- Greg Park (OH)
- Tedd & Linda Potter
- Rich & Mary Kay Ray
- Dorothy Riley*
- David & Janice Schoewe
- Carole Scott
- Ralph & Suzanne Skwarski
- Lydia Spelbring
- Rev. Don & Pat Thomas
- Jim & Vicki Vichich
- Marge Wilcox
- Willis Wolfe (CA)

2010 Business / Professional Members
The support of our professional members is deeply appreciated. We encourage you to support these local businesses.
- Advance Craft Home Builders, Inc.
- Archer-Huntley Financial Services
- Bagger Dave's Restaurant
- Susan Doyle, Realtor
- Joe Agius/Burroughs Tavern
- Lawrence Autobody
- Masonic Lodge #247
- Michigan Commerce Bank
- Patrick Financial Group, LLC
- Promus
- The Engravers Journal
- YM Yum Tree

In Memoriam
The BAHS would like to extend sympathies to the families of:
- Jack Jarvis
- Sharon Kiosk

Both were Brighton Area Historical Society members. Jack was a Brighton native and Sharon owned the Yum Yum Tree.

BAHS Merchandise
We have many great items for sale that help us generate much needed funds to carry on our mission. This includes home décor (water items, afghans and pillows, decorative ceramic tiles, etc.), postcards, craft items, and the like. Presented below are just a few. To see our full gift shop offering, please contact us or visit our web site.

The Old Town Hall graces this framed needlepoint that would look good in any home décor.

The beautiful afghans feature many local historical sites. Available in red, green and blue.

There are twelve different ceramic tiles, each with a different historical building.

From Settlement to City
Brighton, Michigan 1832 - 1945
by Carol McMacken
450+ pages; Over 300 pictures
$65.00

Description: This large volume hardcover book contains a beautifully detailed history of Brighton from its earliest days until the mid-1940s. It contains over 300 pictures and illustrations and is a must for any book collection on Michigan and its rich history.

Our throw pillow is very colorful and contains a scene of the old train station.

BAHS Leadership

President
Jim Vichich

Vice President
Marianne Bair

Secretary
Sue Garcia

Treasurer
Mindy Kinsey

Trail Tales Editor
Dave Ball

Directors
Dave Ball
Joe Collins
Nancy Fredenburg
Larry Lawrence
Thomas Reinko
Tammy Sexton
Dick Weare

Education Liaison
Judith Coebly
Sue Skwarski

The BAHS is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization. Help us out while also helping yourself with a tax-deductible contribution.

The BAHS accepts monetary support and donations of historical artifacts. Please consider supporting us with your generosity.

BAHS: How to Contact Us or Find Us
If you would like to contact us, please use the following options:
E-Mail: info@brightonareahistorical.com
Phone: (810) 250-7776

US Mail:
Brighton Area Historical Society
P. O. Box 481
Brighton, MI 48116-0481

Lyon School
11455 Bunn Road, west of Pleasant Valley Road. The 1885 Lyon School is a fully restored one-room schoolhouse and serves as our organization headquarters.

ColBACH Center
202 W. Main Street, in downtown Brighton next to the Millpond. CoBACH is formally known as the City of Brighton, Arts, Culture and History Center. It is located in the historic 1879 two story brick building also known as the Old Town Hall.
ICE HARVESTING EXHIBIT AT COBACH, JAN 22 THROUGH FEB 27

There is a good chance that when you read this title "Ice Harvesting", you may begin to wonder: what does ice harvesting really mean? How or why would you harvest ice? Ice is found conveniently inside our refrigerators. If we need a big bag of ice for a party or picnic, we can get it at our local grocery store. How or why would anyone attempt to harvest ice?

As all school kids know, ice is simply frozen water. If we go back in time to the 1930s and 1940s, the term refrigerator was just coming into the American vocabulary. This modern piece of kitchen equipment started to replace the familiar wooden icebox that was found in most homes. These iceboxes typically used lake ice into the 1940s. Before refrigeration, all ice came from lakes and rivers that were located in the northern climates. The Brighton area with its fifty surrounding lakes became an important source for providing ice to the large commercial ice suppliers located in Detroit and Toledo. Railroads located next to lakes and rivers allowed huge blocks of ice weighing up to 300 pounds to be transported to the major cities.

The Cobach Center exhibit will feature a media collection of old photos and vintage movie footage from the harvesting process in the early 1900s. The practice of ice harvesting relied on rugged men who would cut the ice into large slabs using handsaws and in later years horse-pulled ice sleds with saw mounted on the underside. The exhibit includes a variety of hand saws and horse-drawn saws that were used to score the ice with parallel grooves prior to the ice cutting sleds that cut deep grooves which allow the workers to hand-fracture the ice.

This exhibit is a must see! You will not see this equipment or learn about the difficult job of ice harvesting when you visit Greenfield Village. Ice harvesting was one of the ten largest industries in the United States at one time. Most of this vintage equipment and media is on loan from the extensive collection of the Knobloch Ice Museum of North America located in Port Huron, Michigan.

Jim Vichich

---

Special Points of Interest:

- Access to health care is a hot political topic today in Brighton's early days, it was a matter of life and death.
- Many people and organizations do fantastic work for the community, as well as new and renewed影视 memberships.

---

Inside this issue:

- Birth and Future Expectations: 2
- Recreation: 2
- Economic Growth: 3
- Barn Features: 3
- Historical Features: 4
- Contact Barns: 3
- Barns: 3
- Historical Features: 4

---

Preserve, Advance and Disseminate Knowledge of the History of the Brighton Area

---

Medicine in Early Brighton

Low land prices in the Northwest Territory during the 1830s were an incentive to hundreds in the eastern United States who packed their families on a boat in the Erie Canal to begin the first leg of their journey to a better life. These newly arrived settlers in Livingston County had left behind not only all educational, cultural and religious resources, but also family support and access to doctors.

What did a doctor's medical training consist of? Most 'doctors' got their medical education working with another doctor; not unlike a would-be attorney apprenticing with another to practice law. Some read medical books and then decided for themselves they were doctors.

In the Michigan Territory during the early 19th century, there was no 911 service in the event of an emergency. Any doctors were several hours away via Indian trails through forests and around swamps or by way of blazed trees.

Today, it is difficult to conceive the desperation, which settlers experienced, if an accident or illness befell a family member. Cutting trees or squirting logs for a cabin occasionally resulted in broken bones and deep flesh wounds. If gangrene occurred, it was usually a matter of amputating the limb or dying of blood poisoning. Cooking at a fireplace occasionally resulted in a garment catching fire. A tipped-over lamp or candle was the source of severe burns. A torniquet applied to a snake bite to stop the spread of venom occasionally caused the inadvertent loss of limb.

Not until 1835, when Dr. Thomas Curtis moved to Kensington Village (just east of the county line), was any medical assistance available to the southeast quarter of the county. There, Curtis built a tavern. Had an office and, probably, a druggist.

The Brighton area's first doctor was Willbur Fisher from Ann Arbor, who moved here in 1836. It is said his medicines were certainly given in sufficiently large doses to cure "... if quantity were the consideration."

Dr. Iras P. Bingham (brother of Governor Kinsey S. Bingham of Greencastle Township) was in the area in 1835. He located his practice in Brighton in 1841, where he practiced for 40 years, living in the Brighton (Eastern) House for a time. Dr. Bingham is buried in the Old Village Cemetery. In 1854, William J. McIninch arrived to teach in local schools. Within a year, he began "reading" medicine with Dr. Bingham and in the fall of 1855 entered the medical department at University of Michigan, where he received his degree in 1858. Following service as U.S. Army Assistant Surgeon General during the Civil War, he continued studying to keep up with medical developments. He continued his practice in Brighton for 52 years after the war. His gravestone is in Fairview Cemetery.

Compiled by Marienna Bair "Michigan Memorabilia" by William Piess, "1880 History of Livingston County" by Franklin Ellis, "From Settlement to City - Brighton, Michigan" by Carol McMacken and clippings. To be continued. Additions/ corrections requested. 310/229-6402.

---

Online Historical Resources

There are many great resources online that make it easy for the serious historian and casual history buff to do research. One of my favorite is the Seeking Michigan site. This web site contains a large collection of stories, maps, photos, documents, oral histories and more. It is also easy to browse and search. I would highly recommend visiting this site to learn about Michigan's great history. - Dave Hall

Seeking Michigan online at: seekingmichigan.org