Geo. W. Broadmore  Furniture, Paints, Etc.
When looking about for your household things,
In bureaus or bedsteads, mattress or springs
Or tables or rockers or couches or chairs.
Just stop into Broadmore’s and banish your cares!
For you’ll find what you need in endless design;
For his new store is filled with a beautiful line.
In pianos and organs and instruments small,
And up-to-date music, he can please you all.
And for sewing machines, we say what we mean,
You surely should purchase a good rich machine.
Of course he has others, but then, why not buy
The cheapest and best? It will pay you to try.
If you’re thinking of painting, you surely will call;
He has paints, oils and brushes to satisfy all.
In fancy wall papers, both costly and cheap;
His stock makes the hardest competitor weep.
In window shades too, he is certain to please.
And lace and Chenille for the people of ease.
Such bargains in curtains, from ceiling to floor,
I’ll wager the oysters, you never saw before.
In fine table covers of various styles,
His stock very quickly all trouble beguiles.
His artist materials are none but the best,
Just say what you wish, and he’ll do the rest.
If you are a farmer, ’twill pay you to turn
Your eye for a moment to his patent churn;
If you are a lady, I’ll say what I mean.
It will pay you to notice his washing machine.
When you drop into Brighton, some trading to do.
Here’s a bit of advice I would give unto you.
Don’t spend all your money until you explore
The wonderful stock of Geo. W. Broadmore.

Ira J. Cook  Barber
Should you in Brighton chance to stop
And seek a pleasant barber shop
Take my advice, no longer look
But try the shop of I.J. Cook
With razors sharp and shears so bright,
He’ll shave you by electric light,
And when you are seated in his chair,
You’ll get up-to-date toilet waters there.
You’ll get a hair cut or a shave,
Or a fine shampoo, your hair to save:
Hot and cold cloths relieve the dread
That’s caused by many an aching head,
With equal charges to one and all.
Who at his shop perchance may call,
You’ll make no mistake by going there.
Where business is done upon the square.

CONT. NEXT COLUMN, PLEASE

It has been determined that a monthly newsletter is important to the Society, its members and others.

Mailed to a local address each costs the Society $1.10 (outside of Brig hton the cost is $1.24). The cost of printing puts the newsletter at $200 per month. And there is an annual $85, non-profit mailing fee.

Due paying members support this expense and that of mailing to others who have expressed an interest in the Society’s goals and purposes. It is hoped that non members would wish to assume their responsibility and make a contribution to these expenses.

Those not wishing to be on the mailing list may contact the editor.
