JASON CLARK, FROM MASSACHUSETTS, TO NEW YORK, TO MICHIGAN

In 1823, 14 years before statehood and before the opening of the Erie Canal, Jason Clark, born in Massachusetts, arrived in Detroit with wife Polly and several children. Having come over Lake Erie from New York, he headed soon to Washtenaw County at a time when Ann Arbor consisted of a half dozen houses. The Chicago Road, near which he built his home, was the route over which native Americans traveled to Detroit for rations and presents, therefore being frequent passersby.

Altho' he had cleared a fine farm on which corn and wheat were grown in the "...virgin soil that needed only to be turned over with the plow after being cleared the seed therein dropped...", in July, 1835, he took up government land in Green Oak Township, Section 9, T33 N, R5 E, NE NE. In November, the S4 NW was added, making a total of 200 acres. Jason was an elder in the Green Oak Presbyterian Church, organized June 15, 1834. Meeting in homes and schools during its 30 year existence in Green Oak, most members transferred when the church was built in Brighton in 1859. Jason, a veteran of the War of 1812, died in 1865. He is buried in the Plains Cemetery on Maltby Road. We will assume Polly, who died in 1895, is also buried there.

Of their eight children, the Fourth, Leonard (Leonard) (Nelson) Nason, was born in Washtenaw County in 1827. Because of the lack of schools in the early years, L.N. attended about one term. As soon as he was grown enough to lift the ax he was in the woods, cutting trees to clear land for crops. By 1845 he was farming on shares with his father, later purchasing the 200 acres. At 17, 1844, he began athreshing business. (The removal of wheat from the sheaf.) This he did for 25 years. Patents were obtained for two inventions: a straw carrier (a three section stacker) and a stacker used with the vibrator thrower. (This equipment allowed for the better arranging of the mass of straw.)

Maria Goucher, of New York, became his bride in 1853, at the age of 18. Her parents had come to the area in the 1840s. They had no children of their own but raised nieces and a nephew, Emma and Frank Goucher and Winifrae Hett. Well aware of the need for education, L.N. saw to it the children attended school regularly.

In 1872, L.N. sold his farm and moved to Brighton Village becoming a lender of money. (There were few banks in the area. Many of those in need of cash borrowed from private lenders.) The Clarks made their home on the south side of Grand River, the 6th house east of Church Street. L.N. and Maria donated a rose window to the new Greek Revival, white frame Presbyterian Church. (When the church was moved to North Street, the window was moved also. Where is it now?) L.N. died in 1894 and Maria in 1913. Both are buried in the Village Cemetery. (Compiled by Marleanna Bair from 1894 Biography and Photo Album, Yesteryears of Green Oak; William Pless' Supplement to the Old Village Cemetery records; Early Landowners and Settlers by Milton Chittenden; and census records. BUS/PROF: Advance Craft Home Builders.
GREAT PATRONS: Jim & Helen Hunt, Judy Hicks Orlando (Washington), Ed and Corinn Sherman and Sherry Vigmostad.

These new members are sincerely welcomed. Membership renewals are what keeps this organization vital. It's not required that one live in the area only that one cares and supports the mission of the Society.

Occasionally the correct year of membership is not noted on the address label. Thanks for bringing this to our attention (also address corrections). Your patience is appreciated.

THANKS THANKS THANKS

... Bert Bair, Ida Bair and John & Janice Field for their help in mailing the May issue of Trail Tales.
... Ed & Connie Sherman and Richard and Barbara Smith for extra donations with their dues.
... Dick Weaver for installing the new bird houses at the Lyon School.
... Jim Dasjohn for readying cast iron parts of school desks for sandblasting.
... Joanna Swain for her work with the school children's visits to Lyon School. Much detail, communication, and personal push is involved.
... All the board members for their dedication to the mission of the Society.

SOCIETY IS HONORED AGAIN

As a part of the recent Michigan Week observation State Representative, Chris Ward, nominated the Society for the Community Achievement Award. Now there is another plaque on the wall at the Lyon School. It was presented in Marshall last month. The many who have contributed so much can take great pride in this award. Way to go!!

ARCHIVES: Each Thursday at Lyon School, 11455 Burro Road, 1-3 p.m. the archives are being developed. Progress is being made toward filing so an item can be located when needed. Copies of your pictures, genealogical records, old abstracts, will be welcome additions.

LYON SCHOOL: Components for 11 desk sets have been purchased. Donations may be made to the cost. Each Wednesday restoration is underway. Your help is needed. If another day/time is better, let us know. The sandblasting needed for the cast iron parts will be an expense also. Again, your donations will be helpful. A c. 41.5" wide steel door for the rear entrance is needed. Let us know if you have one. The MSU Cooperative Extension Service will be planting a heritage tree, a tulip tree, in the schoolyard. The dedication will be open to the public. This kind of events make the Society better known in the area. Several more pieces of Dr. George Schaffert's medical equipment have been restored. A couple wood benches c. 6' long can be used in the school. The grass is cut regularly.

The students of four third grade Hornung School teachers spent a day learning of one room school education last month. Also, 100 children. That's what this is all about; disseminating the area's history.

NEEDED NEEDED NEEDED

...People who want to learn how to re-finish furniture. We'll practice on the desks each Wednesday, 7-9 p.m.
...People to conduct a Society booth at this year's Farmer's Market and/or Art Fair. Also items to be raffled or sold.
...Avery $500 address labels or funds to purchase.
...Materials and workers to install corners delineating property lines at the school.
...More docents to help tell of the history of the school. Instruction will be provided. Call Marianne Bair, 810/229-5402 to help.

...Six to eight folding chairs to provide extra seating at the Lyon School. 810/229-6402.
